Was The Eagle Necessary Linda?

Poised in the veil of the grandiose
In I am reeled by your rod
Next your embrace fills my lungs
Gleeful as I gasp at your golden touch
Au natural at the creek you seek me
How I have longed for this nativity

Shoot its dark I lost track of time
Thank you for having me I must leave
But I feel you grasping at my being
Out to keep me here I can feel
I slip with every step it feels
As you extend your fibrous to me

Crickets jeer, frogs curse, branches slap me
The clouds get together and heckle
Can I get past the guard snake patrol?
I get to the road and let out a sigh

Were you doing it out of spite
Whom led who on or was it by
I come back after some time
Closure is needed to get by
Your glance indifferent I cant tell

Soon I sink to a complete blankness of mind

Is this the part where you break my humility just for practice?
As you whistle the sirens of alarm
Your branches respond to the haka call
Oh, this had to come to the light of day
Scrummaging through my lunch
Was the eagle necessary Linda?
